Mission Statement

The Pikes Peak Lavender Film Festival (PPLFF) strives to build greater community and strengthen alliances between the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender (LGBT) sector and the larger Colorado Springs population through film education, awareness and celebration. We seek to add diversity to the Colorado Springs cinema landscape by bringing quality international films to Pikes Peak region audiences.

While an obvious function of the film festival is entertainment, a more important purpose is to strengthen understanding, inclusion, and tolerance of the LGBT community by showcasing its accomplishments and promoting the recognition of our common humanity.

Welcome to the 12th Pikes Peak Lavender Film Festival

When the Pikes Peak Lavender Film Festival began, our city had a very uncomplimentary reputation. Oh, that we could tell the world that the Colorado Springs community has supported an LGBT Film Festival for 12 years; indeed, our image would improve!

It's nothing short of miraculous that we have survived and we hope to be here for many years to come. It seems that each year someone or something comes along to help us move into solvency. The old guard of the festival, the original founders, are reaching retirement and the festival needs new producers and new sponsors so if you're looking for such an opportunity, please contact us.

We have a fascinating line up of movies this year. For the first time ever, we are opening with a film with an African American cast. Except for some American Indian tribes who call gays and transgender people two-spirited and elevate them to positions of importance like medicine men, all ethnic groups and races have individuals who reject their gay and transgender people. We are here in hopes of gaining understanding and acceptance for all LGBT people. We ask everyone to love your LGBT children. Often, we have special talents that need to be nurtured and certainly, like all human beings, deserve acceptance and love.

We are pleased to welcome special guests from our Opening Night film, Leave It on the Floor: Larry Sheldon, Director, Glenn Gaylord, writer-producer and Barbie Q, an actress in the movie. We'll have a Q & A after the movie and our guests will be here all weekend for you to visit with. On Saturday and Sunday, we have great variety of award-winning films, including the winner of Sundance Film Festival this year plus two official Sundance entries and two BBC films, so we hope you'll return and see more movies. Tickets are always available at the door and there will free food donated by restaurants available to our audience all weekend. Thank you for your support.

Enjoy the Festival!

Board of Producers: Karen Clem (Marketing), Alex Clemons, Alma Cremonesi (Director), Bill Crissman, Carla Eberle, Paul Forsett (President), Dawn Hughes (Secretary), Alex Laput, Jerry Morris, Rick Newcombe (Vice-President) and Sandra Parcher (Graphics Artist).

7:45 p.m. SHORT FILM: Lesbian Cliché Song, Directed by Bob Koherr, 2011, USA, 5 min.

Lesbian stereotypes are skewered in song.

FEATURE FILM: LEAVE IT ON THE FLOOR directed by Sheldon Larry, USA, 109 min.

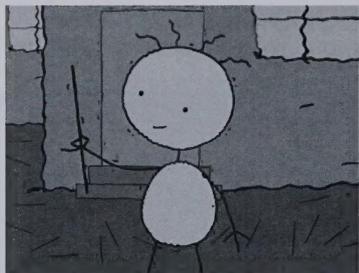

Leave it on the Floor sizzles in dance and song. It is a supersized musical, reminiscent of Paris is Burning, Rent and Dreamgirls that features their newly created family of fierce performers, come together to win a trophy in the Ball competition. Brad is kicked out of his house for being gay. He joins the dance troupe of the House of Eminence and everyone comes together to help him learn the spins, dips and hands. Attractions develop and a love triangle threatens to destroy all they've built. Director Sheldon Larry deftly weaves original songs with dances choreographed by Frank Gaston, Jr. who worked on Beyonce Knowles and Michael Jackson's dance moves. You will be carried away by the songs and dances. Sheldon Larry, director, Glenn Gaylord, writer and producer and Barbie-Q, an actress from the movie, will join us for a conversation after the movie. They will be here all weekend.

Teenagers Atafeh, and her best friend, Shireen, are experimenting with their burgeoning sexuality amidst the subculture of Tehran's underground art scene when Atafeh's brother, Mehran, returns home from drug rehab as the prodigal son.

Battling his demons, Mehran vehemently renounces his former life as a classical musician and joins the morality police. He disapproves of his sister's developing intimate relationship with Shireen and becomes obsessed with ending it.

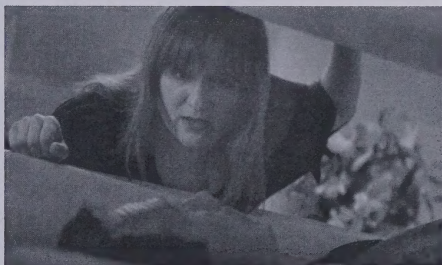

Suddenly, the two young women are entangled in a triangle of suspense, surveillance, and betrayal as the haven of their home becomes a place of danger. Splendidly constructed and saturated with a sumptuous sense of style and sensuality,

Feature Film: A FEW DAYS OF RESPITE (Quelques jours de Repit) directed by Amor Hakker, 2010, Algeria/France, 80 min in French with English Subtitles

Facing imprisonment or death,
Algerian illegal émigrés Mohsen and his young lover Hassan cross the southern border of France and make it to a small, bucolic village on their way to Paris.

In need of extra cash, Mohsen is offered a job painting the flat of a woman he befriends.

They, eventually, make it to Paris but are under constant fear of deportation.

Inspired by an article in the French press, the Algerian-born also plays Mohsen) has crafted an elegant, restrained film about a subtle profound expression of love

as it develops amid a repressive regime.

From the director of Hannah Free (10th PPLFF) comes this cool musical about unrequited love.

Jamie is moving from Chicago to New York with hope of becoming a Broadway actress.

Her best friend and roommate, Jessica, is bummed, because she's not-so-secretly in love with Jamie. Jessie tries to make Jamie jealous by dating other women; it backfires in a way Jessie never could have imagined. The two leads bounce off each other and various dates and loves with easy intimacy and original song to compliment this made with love movie. It's a love letter to Chicago and unusual friendships.

Feature Film: PRIVATE ROMEO directed by Alan Brown, 2010, USA, 89 min.

Love knows no boundaries. When eight cadets are left at an isolated, all boys, military high school, the greatest romantic drama ever written seeps out of the classroom and permeates their lives. Incorporating the original text of Romeo and Juliet, YouTube videos, and lip-synched Indie rock music, Private Romeo takes us to a mysterious and tender place that only Shakespeare could have inspired. When the proud father, Enrique, returns from three years in prison, he's shocked to discover that his son Michael is transitioning to Vanessa. Meanwhile, Angela, Vanessa's supportive mother tries to keep the family together.

Three perfect leads: father (Esai Morales—NYPD Blue, Bad Boys...) mother (Judy Reyes (Scubs, OZ)) and child, newcomer, Harmony Santana, anchor an incredible cast. Gun Hill Road opened both the San Francisco and LA Outfest Festivals this year.

2:45 p.m. SHORT FILM: The Time In Between directed by Henrik Martin Daahsbarren, 2009, Norway, 24 min., in Norwegian with English subtitles.

This film is inspired by a true story of a secret relationship between the famous Norwegian poet Gunvor Hofmo and a talented young Jew, Ruth Maier. The story takes place over a few days in October/November 1942, when 768 Norwegian Jews got arrested and were deported to concentration camps in Poland and Germany.

FEATURE FILM: THE NIGHT WATCH

directed by Richard Laxton, 2011, U.K., 90 min.

The highly anticipated BBC film adaptation of Sarah Waters' novel, The Night Watch doesn't disappoint, with all the mystery, betrayal and hunger you would expect from the author of Fingersmith and Tipping the Velvet.

It's an intimate character study of five Londoners in the 1940s, as their intertwining secrets and desires reflect the precious humanity and havoc amid a backdrop of war. A hauntingly beautiful story, this poignant film burns with a sensual flame.

Desperate characters burst with quiet grace as the layers of their lives peel back and reveal the way forward.

A hilarious short about the surprising life of a handkerchief.

FEATURE FILM: CHRISTOPHER AND HIS KIND directed by Geoffrey Sax, 2011, UK, 90 min.

Christopher and His Kind chronicles the formative years of Christopher Isherwood as he escapes repressive English society and his suffocating relationship with his mother, for the politically unstable world of Thirties Berlin.

The hedonistic Berlin cabaret scene is in full swing when a young and wide-eyed Christopher Isherwood arrives in the city, unable to speak a word of German, to stay with his close friend, W.H. Auden.

The stories Isherwood wrote during his Berlin years became the basis of Cabaret, the Broadway musical and later a movie. To Isherwood's reserved English sensibility, Berlin's thriving gay subculture is thrilling and intoxicating.

But Christopher soon finds himself heartbroken after the failure of a hopeless love affair, and so sets out on a process of self-discovery...

Freshly out of college and feeling completely lost in the real world, a young woman becomes infatuated with her GPS device that seems to direct her on a clear path.

FEATURE FILM: CODEPENDENT LESBIAN SPACE ALIEN SEEKS SAME, directed by Madeleine Olneck, 2011, USA, 70 min

True love exists even if it means going to another planet to find it. Serving on a special mission, three lesbian aliens are sent to Earth.

As the fetching extraterrestrials search for romance on the New York dating scene, one finds love with Jane, an eager store clerk who is oblivious to the fact that she's dating an alien.

Tightly scripted with black & white film and campy B-movie effects, this wholly original comedy embraces the intrinsic hilarity of lesbian life to tell a story about love that transcends galaxies. An official Sundance selection this film also won honorable mention at the LGBT San Francisco and LA Outfest Festivals. Outer space is the perfect setting for the final frontier of this absurdly funny relationship drama and our closing of the 12th PPLFF.

Barbie-Q's Hotplate: July 29th to Aug 12th

"I am ecstatic that the film is getting all this attention. We worked hard on it and it is lovely to see the fruits of our labor (isn't that what all artists want?) I guess the main thing is keeping my head and wits about me."

Satisfying & Delicious

Why does our food take so long?

Many of you have asked this question when eating at Adam's because in fact, our food does take longer to prepare than most restaurants for very good reasons: reasons that keep our customers coming back long after being reassured that have kept us in business for 25 years. Our food tastes better. And it's not because we are more "creative" or faster scheduled or more "creative." It is because we refuse to take short cuts. We prepare every meal from start to finish without the aid of microwave, fryers and food lamps. Every piece of food is cut to order and every way is prepared from scratch. We do not "pretend" chicken and fish is off unless you order it. We take great pride in what we do and your satisfaction with our service is paramount. We are always re-evaluating our methods and looking for ways to improve without sacrificing quality and consistency. Every day we strive to serve your food. Please allow us the opportunity. Thank you.
